The World Unseen

Rosanne Cash

I'm the sparrow on the roof
I'm the list of everyone I have to lose
I'm the rainbow in the dart
I am who I was and how much I can hurtSo I will look for you in stories of hurricanes
Westward leading, still proceeding
To the world unseenI'm the mirror in the hall
From your empty room I can hear it fall
Now that we must live apart
I have a lock of hair and one-half of my heartSo I will look for you
Between the grooves of songs we sing
Westward leading, still proceeding
To the world unseenThere are no gifts that will be found
Wrapped in winter, laid beneath the ground
You must be somewhere in the stars
'Cause from a distance comes the sound of your guitarAnd I will look for you in Memphis and the miles between
I will look for you in morphine and in dreams
I will look for you in the rhythm of my bloodstream
Westward leading, still proceeding
To the world unseen
