All messed up

The Quakes

I hope I never wake up, I dream about you all the time now
And I don't wanna face another night without you here
Someday, someway, somehow, we will be together again
You know I've always wanted just to feel the touch of your love
You know I've always hated knowing how far apart we are
Someday, someway, somehow
We will be together again I just want you to know
Baby I'm all messed up in you, you're far away
But you're here with me
Baby I'm all messed up in you, you're all I need
My everything
Every night I wake up hoping that I'll find you here
And there's not a day that goes by, I don't think about your smile
Someday, someway, somehow
We will be together again, I just want you to know
Baby I'm all messed up in you, you're far away
But you're here with me
Baby I'm all messed up in you, you're all I need
My everything
And I know that we will find a way
To be together someday
And I promise you that I won't leave
I'll be here forever
Baby I'm all messed up in you, you're far away
But you're here with me
Baby I'm all messed up in you, you're all I need
My everything
I want you, I need you, I'm lost here without you
I'm all messed up in you, I hope I never wake up
I dream about you all the time now
