One Thing Left To Do

Del Amitri

So long, hope your dreams come true
Now I've gone I know you're gonna bloom
And did you want me to say I'd die for you?And what you wanted I couldn't give
I guess I needed it to live
And did you want me to say I'd die for you, die for you?And did you want me to give my heart to you?
Well I wanted to but I wasn't sure who I belonged toAnd so long to everything
Now there's only one thing left to do
I guess I want to prove that I'd die for you, die for youI don't think of you, like I used to do
I can't figure who, I'm writing this toAnd it's ok if you want to say I died for you
