Set Free

Stretch Arm Strong

I wanna liberate you
I wanna set you free
I wanna bear your burden
Why won't you let me?Is it so hard to let me in?
It'll take some spark for the fire to begin
And I will always love you and I'll stand by your side
A special place in my heart is where you'll residePlease don't shut your eyes, there are so many lies
Please don't close your ears, there are so many fears
No one made you step out of line
It's just a gradual digression over timeChoking and gasping for a breath of hope
Reaching for something to cling to at the end of your rope
And I will always love you and I'll stand by your side
A special place in my heart is where you'll residenYeah, yeah, set freeWipe the tears from your face
You and I will win this race
This is my promise to youFrustration sets in
When will the healing begin?
