Don't Turn His Crushed Face On Me

Dead Infection

John and Marylin were a happy couple. They's been together for five years. Just like every morning John get up to do shopping. marylin and their 2-years-old son were still asleep. 10 minutes went by. Marylin was woken up by a loud crash. She looked out of the window and saw people gather in front of here house. She ran ouside. She looked at a man lying on the street. At his clothes, at his shopping bag. That was John. A policemen turned John's face on Marilyn. She puked. John's brain flowed out through his eyesockets and ears. There was the cause of the accident standing near to John's body. A goods truck that was. John's eyeballs stuck to the car's tires. She couldn't bear such a sight.
