Last Man Standing

Duran Duran

Now an unexpected peace comes to the day
As the howling dimmed, a fighting dies away
When the hanging dust is clearing from the air
You can just make out a lonely figure there
He's the last man standing on the track
He does not look down, he does not look back
He's the last man standing on the track
You can't hold him down, you can't hold him back
The last man standing on the track
He does not look down, he does not look back
He's the last man standing on the track
You can't hold him down, you can't hold him back
He's sorry for the wrong that he has done
And he cries out for the anger for so long
All the cuts and bruises suffered in whose name
Oh, but now is not the time to face his shame
He's the last man standing on the track
He does not look down, he does not look back
He's the last man standing on the track
You can't hold him down, you can't hold him back
The last man standing on the track
He does not look down, he does not look back
He's the last man standing on the track
You can't hold him down, you can't hold him back

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/