Precious Time

Van Morrison

Precious time is slipping away
But you're only king for a day
It doesn't matter to which God you pray
Precious time is slipping awayIt doesn't matter what route you take Sooner or later the hearts going to break
No rhyme or reason, no master plan
No nirvana, no promised land becausePrecious time is slipping away
You know, you're only king for a day
It doesn't matter to which God you pray
Precious time is slipping awaySay, que sera, whatever will be
But then I keep on searching for immortality
She's so beautiful but she's going to die some day
Everything in life just passes awayPrecious time is slipping away
You know, she's only queen for a day
It doesn't matter to which God you pray
Precious time is slipping awayWell, this world is cruel with its twists and turns
Well, the fire's still in me and the passion burns
I love a melody 'til the day I die
'Til hell freezes over and the rivers run dryPrecious time is slipping away
You know, she's only queen for a day
Doesn't matter to which God you pray because
Precious time is slipping awayPrecious time is slipping away
You know, you're only king for a day
It doesn't matter to which God you pray
Precious time is slipping awayPrecious time is slipping away
You know, you're only king for a day
It doesn't matter to which God you pray because
Precious time is slipping away
