Chamber

Alaskas

I lost myself last night, I lost myself in you,
Your world is a chamber,
I walk into your room, I wish this was my tomb,
You're pure,
burning slowly, she's sleeping softly
Your mind is a stranger,
If this is comfort, a mutual feeling,
I'm fooling myself in love
In love,
Tell me why I am lying here with youThis room is freezing, but I am burning
It's dark but it's still so bright,
You kiss me softly, I suck your lips tight
I'm fooling myself in love
In love,
(every night)I'm never there for you,
So tell me why I am lying here with you every night,
I'll never know the truth,
So tell me why I am lying here with you every night,I know that you are gone, but you're still a part of me
Your spirit still holds on, a beating pulse set freeAn ocean in a dew drop, a leaf upon a tree
And if my heart should stop, I'll still be thinking of you and me.Why I am lying here with you?
Why I am lying here with you?I'm never there for you,
So tell me why I am lying here with you every night,
I'll never know the truth,
So tell me why I am lying here with you every night,I'm never there for you,
So tell me why I am lying here with you every night,
I'll never know the truth,
Why?
