Heart & Soul

Skatterman

Just loving you has left the world behind
I wish I knew how love could be so blind
Now all these thing I never can let go
Can't let goI'd give you my heart & soul (I'd give you my heart & soul)
If that's what it takes to prove myself to youI understand my life has lost control
What would I do without your love to hold
Nobody knows how much I've come alive
All that I have to give I give to you from deep insideI'd give you my heart & soul (I'd give you my heart & soul)
If that's what it takes to prove myself to you
I'd give you my heart & soul (I'd give you my heart & soul)
To hold you now and let your love come thruAnd all these nights I sat alone waiting for someone
And here you are my very own, waiting for so long
I want to give you more than you have known before
