Sewn and Silent

Karnivool

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I'm touching you and tearing back
And dreaming of your life
I wanted to be hurting
Shallow eyesNot to mention I'm falling, dreaming
What is wrong with silencing my thoughts?
You were there
And you weren't designed for what they're sellingSlow down, take time, let it heal
Hide your face from mineI'd follow you entwined
My bleeding eyes are sewn blind
Fade away, if you reach this in two mindsNot to mention I'm dreaming, falling short
Sell me away that this is real
Saving me, settle down, and I will fall upon thee
In this happiness I'm so damn lonelySlow down, take time, let it heal
Hide your face from mine
Slow down, take time, let it heal
Hide your face from mineIt's too late to find, body and mind
Another reason holds you there
Spit it out 'cause I feel this love has gone astrayDarling, you'll have to promise me
That you won't turn around
Just as well, I'm burning down
You take me away
