One By One

Aaron Freeman

Let's count the times we remember one by one, one by one, each June, July and September one by one, one by one,
some special day, some special time, some special spring on summer time one by one, one by one, counting one by one There was a time we walked together two by two, two by two in sunny days all together children two by two, two by two so far away, so long ago where did I fall in moments go one by one, one by one, counting one by one love comes and goes like the seasons four by four, four by fourJust stayed a while, just like your smile and when I wake like the seasons one by one one by one counting one by one Let's count the time we remember one by one, one by one each June, July and September one by one, one by one
some special day, some special time
some special spring on summer time,
