Maybe I'm a Fool (Cured)

The New Amsterdams

Maybe I'm a fool for believing you
Never be the proof but then it all came true
Wrote it in a letter that I sent to youSuns coming up, finally waking up
Everyone says this is it
This isn't itMaybe I'm a fool
Maybe I'm a fool for believing youSaid you never knew, never had a clue
Couldn't keep a secret
I won't ask you toIt's all I got, it may not be a lot
But everything is over now
So over nowMaybe I'm a fool
Maybe I'm a fool for believing youYou're off into the blue without a word or two
Maybe this is better, once I'm over you
It's all my fault that every grain saltWants to hope that you're to blame
You're only half the blame
You're only half the blameMaybe I'm a fool
