The One I Hate

David Mayfield

You are pretty and witty, wild but graceful
I'm wasteful and hard on the eyes
I can't even pull off this simple seduction
I'm a one man production of Lord Of The FliesUnrested, forgetful and rapidly aging
While waging my war with the world
Grinding my teeth as the ground moves beneath me
So sick of believing that you're still my girlDon't tell me you love me, I warn you you'll seal our fate
How could I love the one who loves the one I hate?Like a bull on the loose in a shop full of china
I swear I just came in to browse
What's the matter with me? I can't touch anything without
It shattering, we can't share this glass houseDon't tell me you love me, I warn you you'll seal our fate
How could I love the one who loves the one I hate?
You love the one I hateWho are you to decide who's beautiful on the inside?
You've never been in my mind
It's a sad, shallow place where dreams go to dieDon't tell me you love me, I warn you you'll seal our fate
How could I love the one who loves the one I hate?
You love the one I hate
You love the one I hate
Please love the one I hate
