She Gives Me Religion

Van Morrison

Down the mystic avenue
I walk again
Remembering the days gone by
And I'm knockin' with my heartAnd all the girls walk by
In all their summer fashions
And the church bells chime
On a summer Sunday afternoonShe gives me religion
She gives me religionAnd the Angel of imagination
Opened up my gate
She said "Come right in
I saw you knockin' with your heart"And the Angel of imagination
She lit your fiery vision bright
Let your flame burn into the night
I saw you knockin' with your heartShe gives me religion
She gives me religion
It's all rightAll the girls walk by
In all their summer fashions
And the church bells chime
On a summer Sunday afternoonIt's all right
She gives me religion
I said, "She gives me religion
And I'm knockin' and I'm knockin' with my heart"
And I'm knockin', knockin' with my heart
And I'm knockin' with my heart
