Gethsamane

Rise Against

It was the perfect night
then you had to go and ruin it with a kiss now I'm trapped inside here the innocence we held once so carelessly has been suffocated in this breathless moment[Chorus]
Believe in me and I will believe in you You're asking of me everything so I'll give it all to youWith arms raised to the stars begging them to listen
With legs littered with scars cut from these olive branches Now, point of return now crossed and our hands left shaking tonight we give in to temptation[Chorus]
Believe in me and I will believe in you
You're asking of me everything so I'll give it all to youSomeone stop my mind from screaming It's so loud I can her myself think Life, Death, Religion, Survival
It makes no sense
Don't try to tell me that I'm a coincidence[Chorus x2]
Believe in me and I will believe in you
You're asking of me everything so I'll give it all to youIf I never have you, then I can never lose Now, everything here is a lie Where is the truth?
Where is the fuckin truth?
