Love & Pride

Alana Davis

I'm having a notion, it's a strange, the strangest emotion
I'm all wrapped up with my head in the clouds
The sweet child thinks he doesn't deserve me
Well, I'm not that proudWell, I'd walk for miles to see that handsome face
To be with you, baby, I'd go anyplaceSo you say that you ain't got money, well, I don't care
'Cause I'm so in love with you, honey
What I got I'll shareTake me by the hand
Help me move my mountains aside
Help me to understand because love is stronger than
It'll serve you longer than prideNow father lend me your strength
I know you think I'm weak but I'm not ashamed
'Cause I'm in love and I'll tell you it's real
I may be young but I know how I feelSo you think he's gonna up and leave me, I disagree
He said that he'd give up the world just to please me
And care for me andTake me by the hand
Help me move my mountains aside
And help me to understand because love is stronger than It'll serve you longer than prideWhen I first looked in his eyes
I felt this chemistry much to my surprise
Here's a man full of beauty and free of greed
And I will stand by him 'cause he's all that I needThe sweet child thinks he doesn't deserve me
Well, I'm not proud, proud
Said it once but I think he heard me
So I'll say it out loudTake me by the hand
Help me to move my mountains aside
Help me to understand because love is stronger than
It'll serve you longer than prideTake me by the hand
Help me to move my mountains aside
Help me to understand because love is not stronger than
And it'll serve you longer than pride
