Let It Go

Fauxliage

I'll begin to let you go.
When the sunlight melt the snow.
Every night I jive away from you.
I see the mountains I have yet to move.
And you there, you don't care.

I wonder if you.
Wanted me, like I wanted you.
It's a lonely truth.
That I can't change you.
And you sure can't change me.

It's hard as hell tonight to sleep.
To close my eyes would be admitting my defeat.
And you there, you don't care.

I wonder if you.
Wanted me, like I wanted you.
It's a lonely truth.
That I can't change you.
And you sure can't change me.
Are you wanting me, like I wanted you.
It's a lonely truth.
That I can't change you.

And you there, you don't care.
I wonder if you.
Wanted me, like I wanted you.
It's a lonely truth.
That I can't change you.
Wanted me like, I wanted you.
It's a lonely truth.
That I can't change you.
And you sure can't change me.
