Two Hearts

Vince Gill

There's a man drinkin' whiskey in a bar room
He's nursin' a broken heart
There's a woman at a table
With her own brand of misery cryin' in the darkWill two hearts make one tonight?
Will somebody lost find someone who's lost?
Will strangers find comfort in the cold neon light?
Will two hearts make one tonight?Oh, there's just a waitress between them
They're so close to finding their dreams
They're just one dance away from easing the pain
Of coming apart at the seamsWill two hearts make one tonight?
Will somebody lost find someone who's lost?
Will strangers find comfort in the cold neon light?
Will two hearts make one tonight?
