Born Yesterday

The Necessaries

She thinks that I was born yesterday
She thinks that I go out with the tide and fade at the end of the day
She thinks my hair's ain't numbered and when pricked I don't cry in pain
Just 'cause I smile like a child born yesterdayAnd she thinks that I was born in another age
She thinks that I get up with the sun and dream my life away
And she thinks, 'cause I'm saying nothing, that I've got nothing to say
Just 'cause I smile like a child born yesterdayBorn yesterday, born yesterday, born yesterday
Born yesterday, born yesterdayAnd she thinks that I was born yesterday
She thinks that I came into this world born without a name
And she thinks that I'm going nowhere 'cause I stay at one place
And 'cause I smile like a child born yesterdayBorn yesterday, born yesterday, born yesterday
Born yesterday, born yesterday

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/