

Doom & Gloom

Dance Gavin Dance

I'll have to leave just as soon as the colors begin to fade
I'll run away before lying to you becomes natural
What I had in mind was
What you held against me Give me the keys and I'll drive you insane
Take apart your brain if you ever loved me
Never satisfied
Or just never coming back (Stay away from me) No, prep him for the ghost
Let him see the ghost (Stay away from me)
Let it in and come to terms with what would have
Could have been (Stay away from me)
Prep him for the weight
Let him see the fate (Stay away from me)
Fracturing relationships and isolation
Do you wanna get mad about... All your feelings won't change the world Do you wanna get mad about... Saying nothing, being nothing, be with someone else I'll have to leave just as soon as the colors begin to fade
I'll run away before lying to you becomes natural
What I had in mind was
What you held against me Give me the keys and I'll drive you insane
Take apart your brain if you ever loved me
Never satisfied
Or just never coming back (Stay away from me)
(Stay away from me)
(Stay away from me) No, prep him for the ghost
Let him see the ghost (Stay away from me)
Let it in and come to terms with what would have
Could have been (Stay away from me)
Prep him for the weight
Let him see the fate (Stay away from me)
Fracturing relationships and isolation
Before you decide that this is dated
Take me out of the equation
What was it that you most hated?
All the time that you spent waiting When the stomach becomes the mouth and it's spewing all its garbage out
To think before speaking would prevent you from the point you're making
When the stomach becomes the mouth and it's spewing all its garbage out
To think before speaking would prevent you from the point you're making The slew of trails towards destiny,
the perfect day to quit
The slew of trails in reverie, bite my crooked shape
