Left with a Gun

Skinshape

I do find it hard to realize my true potential, and without the right potentials I am lost.

Donâ€™t take it for granted or your life it will get slanted and the chance is you are left without a gun.

Our disposition and our mental acquisition

always seem to follow where we go.

In the end its our inception and life is just perception for the moment donâ€™t pretend youâ€™ll never be

Never be, Never be

For tomorrow dont pretend youâ€™ll never be

Always seem to follow where we go
