Crumb By Crumb

Rufus Wainwright

Crumb by crumb in this big black forest
You I'll believe
Crumb by crumb in this big black forest
You I'll believeMaybe in you I'll believe
Maybe I'll believe in you
The future of
My understanding of loveMany a time I've before
Before I've many a time
Knocked a stranger's door
Discretion, hardly I'm known forProbably has nothing to Nothing at all in the world
To do with you
Just your lower lip on the floorBut baby, I gotta get through
Crumb by crumb in this big black forest
Maybe in you I'll believe
Maybe I'll believe in youSuddenly I'm not myself
Behind the facade is a lonely fountain, here
Suddenly you are the one
Who opens the gates to this unruly garden
Come and let this man let go young'Cause baby, I got to get through
Crumb by crumb in this big black forest
Maybe in you I'll believe
Maybe I'll believe in youSuddenly you're not yourself
Behind the facade is a lonely Angel, still Suddenly I am the one
Who opens the gates to this now gloomy garden
Come and let this man let goCrumb by crumb in this big black forest
You I'll believe
Crumb by crumb in this big black forest
You I'll believe
Crumb by crumb in this big black forest
You I'll believe
