Wait a Minute

The Notorious Cherry Bombs

Wait a minute, hey just a minute
I just need a little time
I can't get myself together, give me half the chance
Baby to collect my mindWait a minute, hey just a minute
I need a little room to breathe
Slow down, slow down, we can turn it around
Baby you don't have to leaveI just wanna call a time out, baby
Things are moving way too fast
I've been having trouble keeping up with you
I don't think I'm gonna lastI love you like there's no tomorrow
But I gotta make it through today
So have a little patience with the shape I'm in
You don't have to throw it all awayWait a minute, hey just a minute
I just need a little time
I can't get myself together, give me half the chance
Baby to collect my mindWait a minute, hey just a minute
I need a little room to breathe
Slow down, slow down, we can turn it around
Baby you don't have to leaveAnd everything about this love we share
There's something that I can't explain
And every time I think I'll get somewhere
The road comes out from under and I'm going down the drainWait a minute, hey just a minute
I just need a little time
I can't get myself together, give me half the chance
Baby to collect my mindWait a minute, hey just a minute
I need a little room to breathe
Slow down, slow down, we can turn it around
Baby you don't have to leaveSlow down, slow down, we can turn it around
Baby you don't have to leave
