Nothing to Lose

Pulley

Don't tell me life can be unkind
How the goals you thought you could reach
You can never find 'cause it's all work, ain't nothing free
Too bad you had to learn at the expense of meI'm tired of the lies I hear
Why do you feel the need
To dismiss your act's of selfishness
Why can't you own up to your own greed?Nothing to lose and nothing to gain
You're still right where you've always been
Nothing ever seems to change, nothing to prove or to be explained
You get what you deserve in the end, it's really all the sameSo much for my trust in you my once long time friend
You've done the damage that you can do
The waste of energy you expend
I've done nothing dishonest to youYou lit the flame that burned this bridge
And from all I see and hear
The guilt is laying heavy on your head
Think of all the energy you've wasted trying to get evenNothing come from bringing others down
I'm all out of sympathy
You took what you could take from me
Squander your, I'll gotten fortune back
