A Little Song And Dance

Cursive

i sat around for hours on end before and end so clearly breathin to me i shall no longer play a part of your equation i missed your boat i swear you must have stayed off shore avoidance has been your trump just to avoid sad striations still i wait for you this is the best that i can do it's the best that i can do to throw my energy into your apathy i once had pride i once guts but i gave up all that shit for the big easy i once believed i had a name so now i rely on you to get me through this to the numbers on my resume but my name has changed i did it all for you so i hope that you're impressed a little song and dance can have its consequences this is the best that i can do it's the best that i could do it's the best that i can do the pace just waits for you to sit around the phone this is the best that i can do for an end so obviously breathing to me i sweat it out for hours on end for an answer clearly breathing to me i sweat it out for hours on end
