Burnt Out Souls

Superheist

Do you remember what you said, what went through ya head
What made you change into this shit instead
You keep running to hide you [unverified]
You take victims with you no matter what they decideWho's got a burnt out soul
Yeah, you got a burnt out soul
No, I didn't see you fall downCan you remember all the times you changed your fuckin' mind
Who had to pick up the pieces you left behind
I hate what you've become you can't see what you've done
What made you think you're the chosen oneHey, one day you'll find respect and things will be better
Hey, in the end you'll face the things that matter
And I don't need you again
