Angel Band

Tyler Ramsey

The mountains are out across the valley
The clearing of the sky allows you to see
They cut a path down through the trees
Years ago....

Remember the tide shifting outside the door
Of the home that you made out on the coast
And the swing that you hung down from the oaks
Hold on....Hold on

Family pictures were hung on the wall by the back door
There's no reason to stay if you've got what you came for

Clouds thin unveiling the sky
Above the reeds at the water line
The tide's rolling out and passing us by
You and I...

All these things you have done....No one here could expect more
There's no need to hang on if you've done what you came for

Your eyes...The palest of blue
See the lights and the ghost that hang in your room
Angel band come play her through...Play her through

Lyrics submitted by Nicholas Gossett.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/