The Game

BigElf

I'm looking at the future now
And all the time it's taken
I've got no time to close my mind I might just be mistaken
At least I know how to play the game
You go round and round and roundJust when you think you lose sight of your heart and your mind
You're in the game again
Just when you think the world is unfair and unkind
You're in the game againI'm looking at the days gone by what happened to the laughterI've got no time to close my eyes to find out what I'm after
At least I know that it's all the same
You go round and round and round
Just when you think you lose sight of your heart and your mind
You're in the game again
Just when you think the world is unfair and unkind
You're in the game again
