Reflection

Re-Trick

Ive been evicted, erase me from the face of the planet My minds stuck inside a cycle of depression Cause your world got my outlook damaged They have it shattered and cracked, its so crazy The reflection Can you feel me? Look in the mirror, tell me do you see clearly? My minds stuck inside a cycle of depression Listen, I can make the crows talk The reflection And have you jumping out a twenty story building And come crashing on the sidewalk You can see it in my eyes cause I never blink Im the sick side of circling spells And I can read it on your mind every time you think And Im surrounded for the secrets of All the writings on the walls in the cave described us To decapitate the heads of the people who broke trust Beyond the nonbelieving Unforgiven by the sacraments of sin All the way from the beginning My mind state taking a beating and still grinning I keep spinning Good versus evil, whos winning? Underground and Im buried alive Im resurrected and reflected through the Juggalo eyes This aint no fucking disguise This is the way that I look And it will all be explained in the book (in the book) [Chorus] I want you to touch the mirror, saying Twiztid inside your mind 17 times Would you survive in a world thats full of hate? Or would you live and love then die and be buried and then disintegrate? I want you to envision in the battle ground With a light from heaven if I give them hell of the sound Painted in the wind like the stench of the dead Angels with broken wings and devils with severed heads I want you to believe in the realm of the dark Screams can be heard, only faint in the sky Where souls are rotten like teeth and withered like tree barks Demons with false tongues and bright yellow eyes With his flesh being torn, by haunts and ghosts With a flock of ?? and unicorns The monster in the medicine cabinet grows clear Is it me or my reflection that Im seeing in the mirror Theyll all be explained in the book (in the book) In the book (in the book) [Chorus] [Thanks to skitz_sk8er@hotmail.com for these lyrics]
