Life During Wartime

Pinhead Gunpowder

Yeah, we say making changes starts by making changes in the little things you do "Revolution beging at home"
Byr for most of us, it ends there too We're doing something We're making changes
Like changing the kind of crap we buy We say it makes a difference but most of the time, It's just another lie
It used to be "us" and "them" it used to be us+ them
And you+ me
And now we can't reach our full potential without a common enemy A real war to fight against Instead of our petty disagreements But how can I rationalize
My life during wartime lie
A call to action and a reaction Taking our lives into our own hands Instead of sitting aroung talking about the same old stupid bands But war is going on right now and I'm not doing anything about it Without a crowd, I'm not so loud I can't do anything by myself but that's just another lie
