Downfall

Trust Company & TRUSTcompany

The night of timeless fire is drawing near
I flee... Throughout the years of throe
Watching through a mirror, as I fall apart
I see a wreck, I'm burning
Chorus
I see angels burning, falling down in ruins
Looking down I see me, I'm my own enemy
Watching myself decaying, falling from high spirits
I flee... Throughout the ruins of me
Longing for finding my way out

Leaving myself, there's nothing left for me
The ruins are about to crumble down.
Chorus
The flame is dying by shivery winds of jet black skies
It reflects hatred in my eyes
Looking down I see my ashes scattered around my grave
I see angels burning, falling down in ruins
Angels whispering fire, no longer I'm alive
Settled down I'm done with the trip to my kingdom come
