Courting Marry

Blessed By A Broken Heart

Why must you reduce yourself to this Aren't you tired of coming back for more
Can't you see that comfort is just a prayer away
So let your feet shatter the pavement
As you run from this painRacing your pulse beats faster
Don't look down you're almost there Searching but always finding vacant eys and shallow gravesA soul of lust controlled by flesh
An urge to be nothing more is sickening
They want to rape your sanctity and it's sickeningShallow shallow moods to suit you, deadly deadly looks to move you
Using a killer time with a touch of indescretion
