Amazing Things

Julie de Azevedo

What would it be like to have faith to move a mountain?
Faith to walk on water, such faith I've never known.
What would it be like to ride a chariot of fire?
Or to see God's very finger write upon a stone?
What would it be like to sleep among the lions?
Or to build an arc while laughter floods my ears?
What would it be like facing death to save my nation?
Or be betrayed by my own brothers, and not harbor it for years?
Faith the size of a seed can do amazing things.
Amazing things

What would it be like to defeat a might giant?
Or see the belly of a whale and live to tell?
What would it be like stripped of every last possession,
to remain a true and faithful servant still?

Faith the size of a seed can do amazing things.
Amazing things.

What would it be like to behold the Son and Father?
Or see visions of what was and what will be?
What will it be like if I drink from Heaven's fountain,
having faith to move a mountain?

Faith the size of a seed can do amazing things.

If faith the size of a seed, what will he do through me?
