Risky Business

DJ JewBoy

Hide the key 'cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, whoa, whoa
Don't forget how well I know you
Stop asking and keep dancingYou don't stand a chance, girl
You'll fall apart
Start talking with your hands, girl
You'll have to start over, over againBaby, I'll come up and call you out
Maybe next time you should turn around
Over, over againAnd put, put, put
Your heart where your mouth is
And put, put, put
Your heart where your mouth is nowHide the key 'cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, whoa
Stop asking and keep dancingYou think that I am blind, girl
My eyes are always floating in your mind, girl
You'll have to start over, over againMaybe I'm the one who plays the game
Maybe I tend to make the same mistake
Over, over againBaby, you should put, put, put
Your heart where your mouth is
And put, put, put
Your heart where your mouth is nowHide the key 'cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, whoa
Don't forget how well I know youI'll take, take, take, take you down
Stop asking and keep dancing
Stop asking and keep dancingI'm talking about change
You really wanna see the rain
But if you wanna see
Then you need to settle downWe're talking about change
You really wanna see the rain
But if you wanna see
Then you need to settle down, down, down, downHide the key 'cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, whoa
Don't forget how well I know youI'll take, take, take, take you down
Stop asking and keep dancing
Stop asking and keep dancing
