Rearranged

Crimpshrine

Where is everyone?
As time goes on, nothing left to do
Things have changed and rearranged
I look for something new
Always here and nowhere to call home
Where's all the old crew?
Learn right from wrong and try to go on
Look for something newRearranged- A life to live
Rearranged- And love to give
Rearranged- But thing to receive
Rearranged- No plans to make
Rearranged- It's never too late
Rearranged- To find something to believe in Everyone's gone but life goes on Something I wish I was gone too
Things have changed and rearranged
I look for something new
Always alone
Never at home starting at the walls
They took the only thing I had
Now memories just make me sad
And there's nothing left at all
