Carrion

Houses

Carrion
In a moment I'm lost
Dying from the inside
Her eyes take me away
Tear me apart from the inside out
Dead eyes speak in volumes
But our lips refuse move
Could this ever be the last time?
The final time that we see this through?
Give me the strength to return (return)
The breath you've stolen
Give me the means to reset (reset)
Her heart I've broken again
Reflection built upon sorrow
We're walking the darkest roads
Within chests carved with regret
In a moment I'm lost
Dying from the inside
Her eyes take me away
Tear me apart from the inside out
From the inside out

The inside out
We've been running blind
Now we're falling through the cracks
We're left running
We are running blind
Now we're falling
Falling through the cracks
Back to the world of the dead
Her shining eyes mark out return back
To the world of the dead
In a moment I'm lost
Dying from the inside
Her eyes take me away
Tear me apart from the inside out
From the inside out
The inside out
My love I left

My heart I left
With my promise to return
A promise to return
