Not Tonight

Jimi Jamison

Someday I'll miss you, but not tonightDon't know all the answers
Don't know where this road will lead me
Don't know if you're sorry or having regretsYou say that I need you
You say that I'm gonna be lost without you
You say come running
Right back to your armsNo use to go on pretending
No use tonight you broke my heart yeah
You said it meant nothing
Just an honest mistake
Anyone can makeSomeday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonight
Someday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonightYou're working so hard
Turning wrong into right
Oh baby someday I might miss you
But not tonightWe promised forever
We promised for worse or better
We promised each other
Don't mess with our heartsI will always love you
I will always carry you deep inside me
I think about you
You're hard to forgetNo use to go on pretending
No use tonight you broke my heart yeah
You said it meant nothing
Just an honest mistake
Anyone can makeSomeday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonight
Someday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonightYou're working so hard
Turning wrong into right
Oh baby, someday I might miss you
But not tonightIt can't go on when trust is gone (I'm leaving and now I'm moving on)
There will be days; I'm not that stronger now
I'll regret goodbye
But not tonightSomeday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonight
Someday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonightYou're working so hard

Turning wrong into right
Oh baby, someday I might miss you
But not tonight*repeat to fade*
(Someday I'll miss you
Someday I'll miss you, but not tonight)
