Kailash Kher

I dont wish for riches
I wish only for your love
Im yours, dear youre mine....If you touch me i can die in peace in love
Dear, come into my arms
I long to melt within you
I wish ... I could lose myself in your entiretymy days are lively with joy- my nights sing they make me lost every passing moment
Ive lost myself as I win you
Now I live just for you
I wish I could look at you forever
I wish I could worship your image
All my relations begin with youI wish I could fall upon your body like a garland
I wish I could sail in love
Across the universe
I wish I could sail through this life in your loveThis is soft warm addiction and it keeps on rising
I wish you could wake me like never
My heart has now known madness
My world has lighted up
Like a new bride
Ive become yours, my loveAs you adorn my temple with your loveI dont wish for riches
I want you-
I dont know anything more perhaps, you know
I just know that Im all yours-
And that youre mine
I just know that Im all yours,
And youre mine.
I know Im all yours
And youre mine, only mine
