You're My Everything

Tal Bachman

Every time that I look in your eyes
I know love never dies
Oh, babyLove is blind and I can't see
Cupid's aimed his bow right at me
I love you and adore you, you're all that life could bring
Baby, you're my everythingCynics sneer at fairy tales
They mock love and all its details
But we've got something magical those fools have never seen
Baby, you're my everythingI can only stand for a moment or two
Being without you
Oh, I know it sounds extreme
But baby you're my dream come true
