Walk the Rainbow To the End

Diane Birch

Hold tight to the hopes of a restless fool
Lady luck will be back for you
Don't loosen the ropes of a tie that binds
All we have are the things we doLost in the middle
Just you and me
It's hard to see
End from beginning
And up from down
It's a wild and wonderful dream
Come out swingin' my friend
Walk a straight line
Through the bend
Keep on climbin' that hill
Happiness is a sugar pill
Holy is the stone that brings you down
And spins your world around
Keep on swingin' my friend
Walk the rainbow to the end
To the end
Walk the rainbow to the end
To the endHang tight it's 11: 11
It ain't the time yet for sleepin' child
Don't reach for the fruit of an easy out
What is livin' if it don't get wild
Wait yes I remember you
It's funny how the time goes by
You look a little pale in your grown up style
We never should've said goodbye
We never should've said goodbyeCome back swingin' my friend
Walk a straight line
Through the bend
Keep on climbin' that hill
Happiness is a sugar pill
Holy is the stone that brings you down
And spins your world around
Keep on swingin' my friend
Walk the rainbow to the end
To the end
Walk the rainbow to the end

To the endWalk the rainbow to the end
To the endI see your ghost in the broken window
I see your ghost in the TV screen
I see your ghost at the edge of the bridge
I see your ghost in a midnight dreamSee your ghost in the dusty arrow
See your ghost in the pale moonbeam
See your ghost in the roll of a dice
I see your ghost in the in-between
