Valentine

Old 97's

Heartbreak, old friend, goodbye it's me again
Of late, I've had some thought of movin' in
Of all the many ways a man will lose his home
Well, there ain't none better than the girl who's movin' onTrue love, I knew thought some of leavin' you
Bad thoughts I had, when valentines were due
Of all the many ways a man will break his heart
Well there ain't none meaner than he pulls his own apartValentine, the destroyer, valentine, you belong
In the stars, where you are, always rollin' on
Cried, I've cried till I couldn't carry on
It's a lonely, lonely feelin' when your valentine was wrong
It's a lonely, lonely feelin' when your valentine was wrongHeartbreak, old friend, goodbye it's me again
Of late, I've had some thought of movin' in
Of all the many ways a man will lose his home
Well, there ain't none better than the girl who's movin' onValentine, the destroyer, valentine, you belong
In the stars, where you are, always rollin' on
Cried, I've cried till I couldn't carry on
It's a lonely, lonely feelin' when your valentine was wrong
It's a lonely, lonely feelin' when your valentine was wrongOf all the many things that you were countin' on Well, there ain't none better than the girl who's movin' on
No, there ain't none better than the girl who's movin' on
No, there ain't none better than the girl who's movin' on
