By My Side

Little River Band

It's taking time, all this fear
I pushed back to move on
Beating me like a panic attack since you've gone
And if I never fear to be more alone, I do now
I've turn to see my faded tracks in the snow
I've come so far with no idea where to go
And if I never fear to be more alone
I do now, I do now
I need you to tell me you'll be right by my side
When I feel alone, you'll be right by my side, ooh
It's taking hold of a fool with a fondness for pain
And turn to run without a chance to explain
And if I never thought I'd fall like the rain
I do now, I do now
I don't look back to the spot where I fell
Don't you look back and don't you ever tell
'Cause we know pride, it doesn't heal all that well
All that well, all that well
I need you to tell me you'll be right by my side
When I feel alone, you'll be right by my side
In a crazy world, you'll be right by my side
I need you to tell me you'll be right by my side
When I feel alone, you'll be right by my side
In a crazy world
And I need you to tell me you'll be right by my side
When I feel alone, you'll be right by my side
You'll be right by my side
