Sorry

Small Mercies

Sorry, now that I let you go
You were the better part of me I know
If only I could show that
Baby, I love youWhen the light illuminates the scene
I try to shake this heart of mine
From off my dirty sleeve
Call me a fool or maybe just naive
As all I have to share this place
Is my own companyYeah
Give me the strength I can trust
Give me the will to ignite
I know what it's likeSorry, now that I let you go
You were the better part of me I know
If only I could show that
Baby, I love youYou linger on like a melody
You gave me so much more
Than you received
If only I had seen
Baby, I love youLike a kite I navigate the air
If only I flown higher then
If only I had dared
And who's to say that life can be unfair
I deserved all that I had got
It's all that I could bareYeah
Give me the strength I can trust
Give me the will to ignite
I know what it's likeSorry, now that I let you go
You were the better part of me I know
If only I could show that
Baby, I love youYou linger on like a melody
You gave me so much more
Than you received
If only I had seen that
Baby, I love youOh, can you see that
You belong with me?
I will carry your hurt
It's a burden I learnedI'm sorry that I let you go
You were the better part of me I know
If only I could show that

Baby, I love youYou linger on like a melody
You gave me so much more
Than you received
If only I had seen that
Baby, I love youI'm sorry that I let you go
You were the better part of me I know
If only I could show that
Baby, I love youBaby, I love you
Baby, I love you
