Inside Your Head

Lowroller

I'd like to get inside your head
I'd like to get to know you better
A full understanding is what I'm after
Tell me will I everWould you share what's on your mind
Even at those times
When you seem so far, so far away
Or will you still keep me at a distance
When I'm here to listen
And I won't turn awayYou don't wanna talk about why
Why, your world is upside down
So when you're ready I'll be here
It's you and your life I want to shareI want to know got to know
Will we ever meet, will you come to me
Will there ever be a day
When you choose to come to me, come to meYou can have all the time
You can ever need
I won't rush you baby
For you I'll be patient
Waiting in anticipationFor you there's been many changes
In your life that you've been making
Changes for the better
Changes better late than neverLet me be the one you turn to baby
Be the one you tell your thoughts to Let me be the one that you reach for
I really couldn't ask for more
I couldn't ask for more, no, noLet me be the one
The one and only one
Be the one you trust
Be the one you loveLet me be the one
Get to know you well
Baby who will know
Only time will tell
