Take your time

Kingstux

Take your time and think about it, baby
Take your time and think about it
Take your time and think about it, baby
I've learned how to wait
I know how to wait

I was frightened and I treated you badly
Not that I didn't know just what I had
I think it scared me to find the real thing
With so much emotion and sexual feeling

Take your time and think about it, baby
Take your time and think about it
Take your time and think about it, baby
I know how to wait
I've learned how to wait

Maybe it's a sign of the times
There is nothing
That can't be replaced
But one of a kind
Is the joy I find
When I see
Your face
