Narcissus

City Boy

Lying here beside myself with joy
I am too much for my mirror
Mama said she wished me dead
Called me bad, too bad...

I fell in love as a boy
Opened my eyes and saw my shadow
With eyebrows raised, they searched my face
And found my mate, too late...

Chorus
Don't need no audience round me I'm fond of my own company
Who wants the birds and the bees when I've always got me up my sleeve.
Who said that no man's an island surrounded by nothing but sea.
I tell you he's wrong and misguided I stand here surrounded by me.

Bridge
Breaking up the mirror, you're a sinner, you're a sinner.
Breaking up the mirror; you're a sinner, you're a sinner.

"Come down to earth" They called up to me.
"We have a bed to ease your journey.
Crazy fools are born to bruise,
but we've the cure for both of you.

(Chorus)
Don't need no audience round me I'm fond of my own company
Who wants the birds and the bees when I've always got me up my sleeve.
Who said that no man's an island surrounded by nothing but sea.
I tell you he's wrong and misguided I stand here surrounded by me.

Lyrics submitted by Steve.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/