Daddy, I Love You

Rob Clay

The younger kids are sleeping
Mama's working nights
You are heavy on my mind
So I just thought I'd writeMoney's hard to come by Outside of that we're fine
Little brother talks about you
Almost all the timeEvery night I say a little prayer
That he'll keep watching over you
I know you think that no one cares
But daddy, I love youI've never once heard mama say
Who was right or wrong
I just came home from school one day
And she told me you were goneYou may not want to come back home
And if you never do
Daddy, it won't change the way I feel
I'll always love youEvery night I say a little prayer
That he'll keep watching over you
I know you think that no one cares
But daddy, I love youEvery night I say a little prayer
That he'll keep watching over you
I know you think that no one cares
But daddy, I love you
