Over Again

The Stamps

I've been here before
I've heard all these words
You need a new plan
Gonna have to better get them all
You used to love
You love the staring eyes
I don't see them
Gonna have to better get them all
You finally notice that I was
Sneaking slowly inside your head
Did you know that it was
Just me falling for you
Over again
Over again
Over again
You knew that I was falling for you
Over again
I wrote you songs
I sent you letters
Gave you my records
Gonna have to better get them all
Gave you my soul
Spent all my time
It doesn't matter
Gonna have to better get them all
Can you tell me if there's any
Chance of you fitting me in really leave me alone
Standing there waiting again
Can you tell yourself to open up this time
Maybe give me one more shot no hands to block me falling

Over again
Over again
Over again
You knew that I was falling for you
Over again
I wish I could go back to when it was good
You don't remember the things that you should (I know every line that's on your face)

(You'll never look at you the further you move away)
I wrote you songs
I sent you letters
Gave you my records
Yeah
Again
Over again
Over again
You knew that I was falling for you
Over again
Yeah
Over again
Over again
You knew that I was falling for you
Over again
Gonna have to better get them all
