Take It or Leave It

No Warning

A moment, a look and it's fucking gone
The story of my fucking life
I see others so close together
And I'm left to look with a fucking mirror
Look but no touchI see this shit and I lose my cool
Life is looking endless and I'm here looking alone
Someone tell me if this is the way it goes
Because how the fuck am I supposed to knowA losing streak, a lame excuse
Is why I walk away from you
A chance that I don't want to take
A choice that I don't want to makeTiming is everything
And I won't make the same mistakes
Flying with broken wings
And I didn't think I had what it takes, fuck you
