Multiplication

Motala Rockers

When you see a gentleman bee
Round a lady bee buzzin'
Just count to ten then count again
There's sure to be an even dozenA multiplication
That's the name of the game
And each generation
They play the sameNow, there was two butterflies castin' their eyes
Both in the same direction
You'd never guess that one little yes
Could start a butterfly collectionA multiplication
That's the name of the game
And each generation
They play the sameLet me tell you now I say one and one is five
You can call me a silly goat
But, you take two minks add two winks
You got one mink coatWhen a girl gets coy in front of a boy
After three or four dances
You can just bet she'll play hard to get
To multiply her chancesA multiplication
That's the name of the game
And each generation
You know they play the sameHear me talkin' to your mother nature's a clever girl
She relies on habit
You take two hares with no cares
Pretty soon you got a room full of rabbitsParakeets and in-between tweets
Sometimes get too quiet
But, have no fear 'cause soon you'll hear
A parakeet's riot, just try itA multiplication
That's the name of the game
And every generation
You know they play the sameYeah it's multiplication
That's the name of the game
And each generation
They play the same

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/